

PCT LTD Provides Update of Authorized Distributors and Supplemental Registrants

Distributors in 17 States and Puerto Rico

Little River, South Carolina — (August 12, 2020) – PCT LTD (OTC Pink: PCTL) continues to gain market share by increasing their network of distributors and US EPA supplemental registrants. Through strategic expansion of this network, PCTL is actively expanding their footprint and serving more geographical regions and markets.

PCT Corp., the operating company, currently has three levels of distributorships, with active entities operating at each level.

- Level 1. A level 1 distributorship is a reselling distributor. Companies at this level purchase fluids from PCT Corp. and resell it under the Hydrolyte® name.
- Level 2. A distributor at this level requires a supplemental registration with the US EPA. At this level, distributors are purchasing larger volumes of fluids than level 1 distributors. Distributors at this level may resell the product under the Hydrolyte® name or white-label the product under their own brand.
- Level 3. The highest level, distributors at this stage are similar to distributors at level 2; however, these companies are producing distributors which generate fluids for resale under their own brand. Distributors at this level also typically enter into a system and service contract for ongoing service of their equipment.

PCTL currently has distributorships in 17 states and Puerto Rico. Additional international expansion efforts are ongoing as well. As part of PCTL's expansion efforts, strategic distributors will be added in key regions and markets over the course of the next several months. Each distributor undergoes a thorough vetting process prior to being approved and entering into an agreement with PCTL.

"This is a highly competitive market," explains PCT Corp. President Bill Prince, noting that the company has not, in the past, released information about some of their distributors outright. "In some circumstances, certain distributors need a little time while they establish and grow their business, but they then welcome attention to their market launches."

Additionally, PCTL is working on unveiling a new distributor directory website which will include contact information for each distributor as well as additional information on PCTL's EPA registered solution, under US EPA Registration No. 92108-1. The distributor-centered website, <http://www.pctcorporation.com>, will be linked to the Company's other active websites (<http://www.para-con.com> and <http://www.pctcorphealth.com>) and is in the development process at this time.

"Due to high demand, we wanted to provide an outlet for those interested parties to find and contact the authorized distributor in their area," says PCTL CEO Gary Grieco. "Our distributors are a key portion of our business as well as our growth strategy. They assist in promoting the Hydrolyte® brand. Anything we can do to point people in their direction is a win for everyone."
