

PCT LTD Deploys Initial Annihilyzer® Infection Control System to the United Kingdom

LITTLE RIVER, S.C., October 22, 2019 -- PCT LTD (OTC Pink: PCTL), a Little River, South Carolina company and the designer of the Annihilyzer® Infection Control System, a world class whole room cleaning and disinfecting system for hospitals and health care facilities, is pleased to announce that it has shipped the first overseas Annihilyzer® Infection Control System to its partner company, PCT Europe Ltd., in the United Kingdom.

The phase one installation will begin in November at a large 500 bed hospital in England. Upon successful completion of this initial installation, a continuing flow of orders from associated UK hospitals is expected during 2020.

Addressing and reducing the high number of HAI's (hospital associated infections) in British hospitals is a current and continuing priority of the United Kingdom's government. The incidence of HAI's in the U.K. and Europe is as serious as it is in the United States, costing health care providers an average of $30,000 per case.

PCT Ltd is confident that its first export of the Annihilyzer® Infection Control System to the U.K. will be successful, in the same way its installations in six well known United States hospitals have resulted in a significant reduction of in the number of HAI's within these facilities.
